

ADBI-ICHARM Policy Dialogue on Water-related Disaster Resilience under Climate Change

27-28 January 2020
Asian Development Bank Institute, Tokyo

Introduction:

The Asian Development Bank Institute (ADBI) in partnership with International Centre for Water Hazard and Risk Management (ICHARM) will host a policy dialogue session on water-related disaster resilience with various public scientific agencies, ministries and Senior public works department officials from Japan and developing countries member of the International Flood Initiative (IFI). The policy dialogue is in continuation of the recent Asia-Oceania Group of Earth Observations (AOGEO) symposium, organized by ICHARM, in Canberra. While the symposium in Canberra had focused on the on practical and technical aspects, the Policy Dialogue in Tokyo places a high priority to policy relevant aspects of the disaster-resilience.
