Change Behaviors

Reduce Threats

Advance Conservation

What knowledge is needed to increase awareness and shift attitudes?

What attitudes need to shift for conversations to take place?

What conversations are needed to encourage adoption of new behaviors?

What are the other barriers to adoption other than K, A, IC? Social? Political? Economic?

Other elements of project are critical

Which behavior by which group needs to change in order to reduce the threat?

What are the main threats? Which ones can you reduce?

What are you trying to conserve?

Also applicable to other types of outcomes (eg maternal survival, democratic processes, etc.)

THE PRINCIPLES OF PRIDE

Elements of an Effective Behavior Adoption campaign

Principle 1

Conservation is about behavior

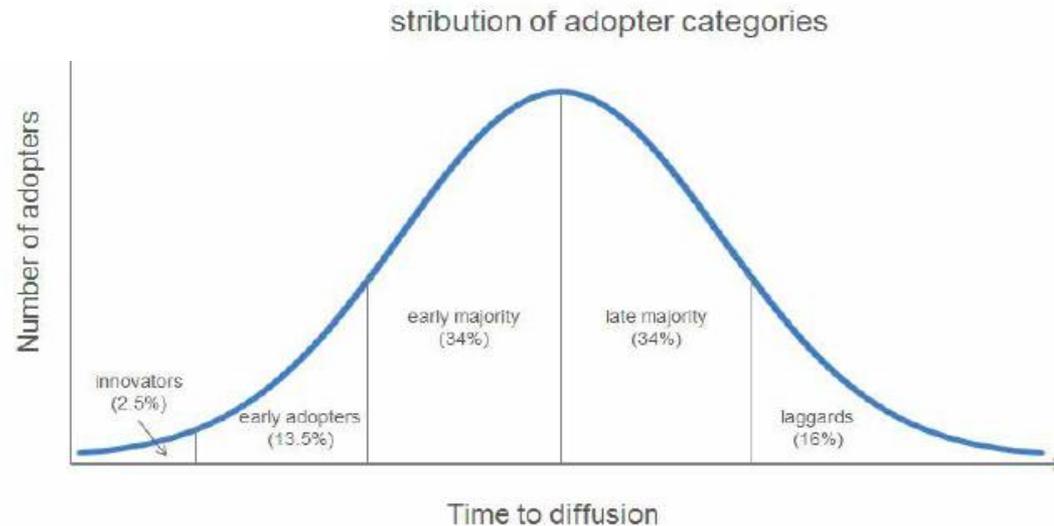

Human behavior change can mitigate or reduce threats to the environment, in turn delivering sustainable conservation and socioeconomic results.

Principle 2

Cross the chasm

Different individuals in a seemingly homogenous group adopt new ideas and behaviors at different rates. To be effective and sustainable, a new behavior must cross the chasm from innovators and early adopters to the broader majority.

The probability distribution function (bell curve) shows the approximate distribution of the adopter subgroups within the population. (adapted from Rogers 2003)

Principle 3

Know your audience

Different groups within a population have distinctive characteristics that influence the extent to which they pay attention to, understand and act on different messages.

Principle 4

Simplify the choices

The ability to accomplish a targeted change in behavior is an inverse function of the available behavioral options – to be effective, a campaign should promote only one specific solution.

Principle 5

Make change worth it

Human behavior change is achieved through an improved exchange, or transformation, of the real and perceived costs and benefits of the prevailing and target behaviors.

Principle 6

Go beyond knowledge

Addressing the knowledge and attitudes of target audience(s) is necessary but alone not enough to transform the real and perceived costs and benefits of prevailing and target behaviors.

COROLLARY PRINICPLE:
Just because you tell me
doesn't mean I will believe it.

ЗАБОРОНЕНО
папіти у переході!

Principle 7

Speak to the heart

A new behavior is rarely evaluated purely from a rational or economic standpoint; rather, subjective and emotional perceptions of the innovation strongly influence diffusion and adoption.

PROTEJAMOS NUESTRO ORGULLO
 SIERRA DE
MANANTLÁN

¡ Es nuestra responsabilidad, prevenir incendios forestales para el beneficio de todos!

Los antiguos indígenas de la Sierra de Manantlán veneraban sus bosques, animales y manantiales

Hoy la coa o Pájaro Bandera simboliza el orgullo de nuestra sierra, herencia amenazada por los incendios forestales

Principle 8

Get people talking

People generally adopt a significant new behavior only after they have validated it with their peers – interpersonal communication is therefore essential to behavior change.

Principle 9

Build a movement

A new behavior is more likely to be adopted and sustained if it becomes a “social norm” and if it is supported and enforced by the wider community.

Principle 10

Key barriers that block or hinder the acceptance of a new behavior must be removed or the targeted change will likely not occur.

Principle 11

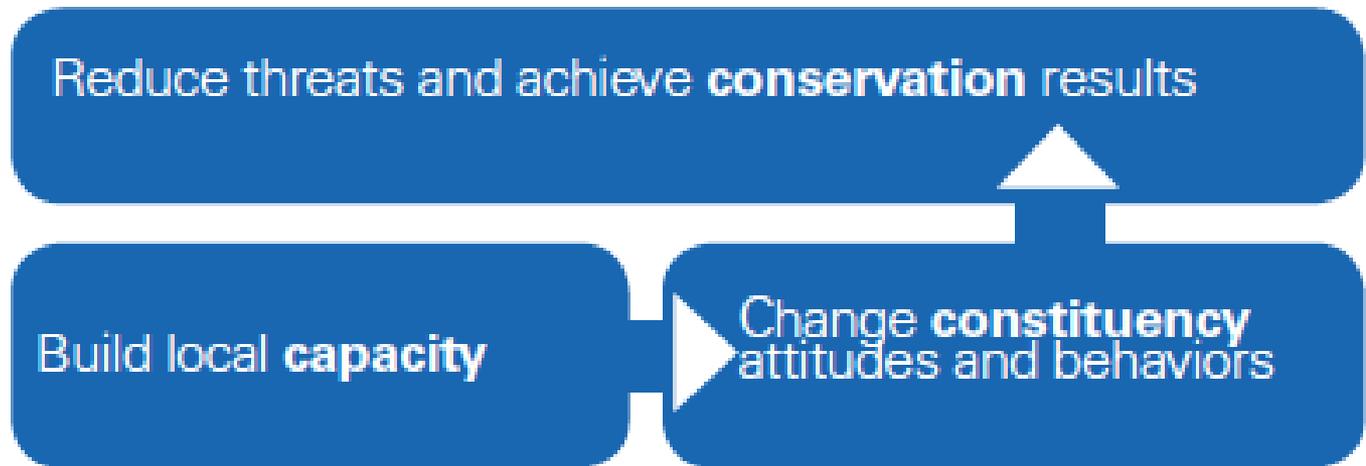

Measure, monitor, and manage

Robust monitoring and evaluation, based on a Theory of Change with clear and specific logic, are critical to adaptive campaign management and the sustainability of change.

Plan for the long haul

Behavior change takes time and must be sustained for enduring conservation and social impact.
