HOW TO BUILD A MEGA-AIRPORT WITHOUT CORRUPTION

New Transparency International Report Praises HK Experience - “Hong Kong Should Carry on with a Superb Tradition”

Issued by Transparency International Secretariat

The Airport Core Programme in Hong Kong is an outstanding example of how corruption can be minimised even in the most massive infrastructure projects, a new report by Transparency International (TI) says. The findings of the TI report* are all the more striking against the background of the recent Bribe Payers' Survey** by the anti-corruption organisation which shows the construction industry to be the sector to be most heavily entangled in corruption world-wide.
