What ADB Does?

When you think of Asia, what comes to mind?

What ADB Does?

- From 31 members at its establishment in 1966, ADB has grown to encompass 68 members—of which 49 are from within Asia and the Pacific and 19 outside. www.adb.org/about/members
- ADB offers a range of financial products that help developing member countries (DMCs) build economic growth and social development. These tools include loans, technical assistance, and grants.
- Public sector (sovereign) financing is extended to DMC governments and public sector entities, such as state-owned enterprises. Sovereign lending or financing secured by a government guarantee forms the greater part of ADB's development assistance.

How ADB finances Projects

Public sector (sovereign) financing

Financial products for developing member country governments and public sector entities

Private sector (nonsovereign) financing

Direct financial assistance to private sector projects

ADB funds and resources

ADB funds activities in various sectors through loans and grants, financed from ordinary capital resources as well as special and trust funds.

Cofinancing partnerships

To create greater synergies, ADB partners with others to finance development projects in the region.

With multilaterals, bilaterals, and private institutions

With commercial financial institutions

ADB's Project Cycle

- www.adb.org/news/videos/adbs-project-cycle
- The various stages from country programming to project completion and evaluation are known collectively as ADB's project cycle. Documents produced in the course of a project are disclosed throughout the project cycle according to the disclosure requirements specified under the Access to Information Policy.
- ADB provides financing for projects that will effectively contribute to the economic and social development of the country concerned and have the strongest poverty reduction impact in conformity with the country and ADB strategies.

ADB Procurement Framework – Key documents

The ADB procurement framework consists of the ADB Procurement Policy (the Policy), the Procurement Regulations for ADB Borrowers (the Regulations), the Staff Instructions (SI), and associated guidance notes (GN).

- (i) ADB Procurement Policy: Approved by ADB Board of Directors, the Policy specifies ADB's six core procurement principles and various considerations relevant to their implementation in ADB financed operations.
- (ii) The Regulations: Approved by ADB Management, the Regulations provide choices for Borrowers to allow them to determine the most appropriate procurement method, specify the rules that must be followed and set out ADB's procurement due diligence function.
- (iii) The Staff Instructions: Approved by the Procurement, Portfolio and Financial Management Department (PPFD) Staff Instructions define the roles and responsibilities of ADB staff in implementing the Policy and Regulations, including the procurement decision authorities and service standards. They also set out the procurement procedures and practices to be applied by ADB Borrowers.
- (iv) The Guidance Notes: Approved by PPFD provide more details to ADB Borrowers to give best practice advice and assist them in implementing various procurement methods and modalities.

Policies applicable to Procurement

Pre-2017 processing

Post -2017 processing

Core Procurement Principles

- (i) Economy
- (ii) Efficiency
- (iii) Fairness
- (iv) Transparency
- (v) Quality
- (vi) Value for money. Price alone may not sufficiently represent value for money.

Fitness for purpose

Fitness for purpose requires procurement arrangements to appropriately reflect the strategic needs and circumstances of the situation. In case a standardized approach cannot effectively and efficiently meet project outcomes and development objectives, including in capacity-constrained environments, a customized approach may be adopted, entailing transaction-specific methods and documentation.

Eligibility

Except in any case in which the Board of Directors determines otherwise, (i) loans or grants from Special Funds resources can be used only for procurement of goods, works, and services produced in, and supplied from, developed member countries that have contributed to such resources or developing member countries; and (ii) loans or grants from ADB's ordinary capital resources or ADB-administered funds can be used only for procurement of goods, works, and services produced in, and supplied from, member countries.

Alternative Procurement Arrangements

ADB may agree to (i) apply the procurement rules and procedures of another multilateral or bilateral agency or organization involved in the project, and may agree to such a party taking a leading role in providing implementation support and monitoring project procurement activities; or (ii) rely on the procurement rules and procedures applied by an agency or entity of the borrower accredited by ADB, provided that in each case such arrangements are (a) compatible with the value, risk, or complexity of the procurement; (b) consistent with the Core Procurement Principles; and that (c) unless waived, ADB's member country eligibility restrictions continue to apply; and (d) ADB's Anticorruption Guidelines and contractual remedies in applicable financing agreements with the borrower continue to apply.

Procurement Methods and Arrangements

- Open Competitive Bidding
- Limited Competitive Bidding
- Framework Agreements
- Request for Quotations
- Electronic Reverse Auction
- Direct Contracting
- Force Account

Particular Types of Procurement Arrangements

- Selection of Consulting Firms
- Selection of Individual Consultants
- Procurement from Specialized Agencies
- Procurement in Fragile and Conflict-Affected Situations
- Procurement Agents
- Support to Governments for Public–Private Partnerships
- Procurement of High-Level Technology
- Performance-Based Procurement
- Community Participation in Procurement
- Procurement under Loans Guaranteed by ADB

Roles and Responsibilities of ADB

The borrower prepares the procurement plan that is agreed by ADB. The borrower is legally responsible and accountable for the procurement. It invites, receives, and evaluates bids, and awards the contract. The contract is between the borrower and the supplier, service provider, or contractor; ADB is not a party to the contract.

The responsibility for the implementation of the project, and therefore for the payment of goods, works, and services under the project, rests solely with the borrower.

Asian Development Bank Review

ADB reviews the borrower's procurement procedures, documents, bid evaluations, award recommendations, and contracts under a risk-based approach through prior and post review (sampling) to ensure that the procurement process is carried out in accordance with the agreed procedures.

ADB may, where necessary, provide extended support without however diminishing the responsibility of the borrower for the execution of the procurement or becoming involved in the procurement decision-making process (or a part thereof).

Bidder's role

- The bidder should then critically review the bidding documents to see if there is any ambiguity, omission, or internal contradiction, or any feature of specifications, terms of reference, or other conditions which are unclear or appear discriminatory or restrictive. In such case, the bidder should seek clarification from the borrower, in writing, within the time period specified in the bidding documents for seeking clarifications.
- The criteria and methodology for selection of the successful bidder are outlined in the bidding documents. If these are not clear, clarification should be similarly sought from the borrower.

Bidder's responsibility

- The specific bidding documents issued by the borrower govern each procurement transaction. If a bidder concludes that any of the provisions in the bidding documents are inconsistent with these Regulations, it should also raise such issue with the borrower.
- It is the responsibility of the bidder to raise any issue of ambiguity, contradiction, omission, etc., prior to the submission of its bid to assure submission of a fully responsive and compliant bid that includes all the supporting documents requested in the bidding documents.

Bidder's responsibility

- Noncompliance with critical requirements (technical and commercial) will result in rejection of the bid. If a bidder wishes to propose deviations to a noncritical requirement, or propose an alternative solution, the bidder should quote the price for the fully compliant bid and then separately indicate the adjustment in price that can be offered if the deviation is accepted. Alternative solutions should be offered only when authorized in the bidding documents.
- Once bids are received and publicly opened, bidders will not be required or permitted to change the price or substance of a bid.

Bidding information

- Information on bidding opportunities under open competitive bidding may be obtained from procurement plans and specific procurement notices. General guidance on participation, as well as advance information on business opportunities in upcoming projects, may be obtained from the ADB website.

Primary Expertise social and behavior change communication

TOR Keywords

Objective and Purpose of the Assignment

A. Background

1. The Government of the Philippines requested support from the Asian Development Bank (ADB) for the Baguio Resilient City Tourism Project (BRCTP). The BRCTP will contribute to the government's Transforming Communities Towards Resilient, Inclusive, and Sustainable Tourism (TourIST) program. One of the project outputs is to improve sanitation infrastructure and services, thereby improving water quality and reducing adverse impacts on health in Baguio City. The Baguio City Government (BCG) is the implementing agency for the BRCTP.

2. In Baguio City, 11,618 confirmed cases of the COVID-19 virus have been reported by the City Government by 7 July 2021. Strengthening water and sanitation services and hygiene behavior change communication are amongst the most cost-effective strategies for improving COVID-19 response and sustainable recovery from the pandemic. The COVID-19 pandemic has the most devastating effect on the poorest and most vulnerable communities of Baguio City, which are severely impacted by the limited access to water and sanitation services and poor sanitation and hygiene conditions. The COVID-19 pandemic is disproportionately affecting the lives and livelihoods of the marginalized communities that are already in a vulnerable position.

3. Access to drinking water service is unequal in Baguio city. According to the household survey conducted in 2020, two-thirds of the households receive water from the Baguio Water District with significant disparities between the four catchments. The remaining households receive water from tanker trucks (17%), protected wells (16%), and unsafe sources (4%). Water consumption is expected to be low for these households.

4. Baguio's sewerage system is composed of a separate sewerage network and covers most of the Balili River catchment with 10,412 registered sewer connections in 2019. Approximately 10% of Baguio population is connected to the city sewer line. The city has one sewage treatment plant (STP) which was built in 1986 with a design capacity of 8,600 m3 per day.

5. Onsite sanitation is prevailing and by far the main source of liquid waste generated in the City. Around 90% of households in Baguio city currently rely on onsite sanitation and related fecal sludge management services. Despite proposals to increase the sewer network coverage and construct new sewage treatment plants in the city, this is only likely to be achieved incrementally due to the high cost. Onsite sanitation and FSM related services will therefore most likely remain the main sanitation services in the city in the short (2025) and medium terms (2035).

6. Access to improved facilities is high with 94% of households having access to a basic sanitation service, which is an improved facility that is not shared. Households relying on shared facilities

New Approach to Consulting Services

Faster consultant selection

- Fewer transactions require ADB's prior review
- Fewer submissions to ADB
- Increased support for framework agreements
- Use of e-procurement systems to reduce procurement time and effort
- Shorter advertising periods (use of eGP)

Flexibility in selecting consultants

- Eligibility and shortlisting requirements have been relaxed
- Alternative procurement arrangements

VfM

- Supporting quality, value for money and high-level technologies
- 90:10 ratios for Quality- and Cost-Based Selection

Stronger support for planning and contract management

- ADB support for consulting transactions from beginning to end
- More planning up-front reduces review times later in the process
- Consultant complaint handling procedures are fairer and more transparent
