e-Government & e-Procurement

GOVERNMENT PROCUREMENT

Government Procurement is a sub-component in e-Government

Government Procurement system is a component of a larger systems ecosystem (acquisition cycle)

Increasing the quality of the Government Procurement system is contingent on the same drive in other systems in the ecosystem

Public Procurement in Indonesia Today

Spending on Infrastructure

- Logistics and transaction costs still high in Indonesia, infrastructure much needed to spread development to outer islands and reduce logistics costs and increase competitiveness
- $187 billion to be invested over 5-years (2015–2019) from central government public budget and $45 billion from subnational budgets and $88 billion through State Owned Enterprises and another $144 billion from the private sector

- Forecasters seem to be confident, new momentum for reform
